Foreword

What is Medina High School? It is companionship, solitude. It is determination, the striving for goals. It is promise, persistence, progress, and achievement. It is also pride, both in victory and defeat.

A successful yearbook is one that fulfills its obligation to the student and to the school by preserving the history of the school year. Such a record pictures students discovering new talents and interests, creating new ideas during participation in extracurricular activities, and experiencing growth in order to establish themselves as mature individuals.

The staff sincerely hopes that you, the reader, will begin this volume with great anticipation of re-living both joyful times and thoughtful moments. If, during this renewal of your memories of the past year, you find that the pursuits of both the faculty and the students have been accurately portrayed, then we shall have succeeded.

Dr. Grotaas is completing his fifth year with the Medina City School system.

Since coming here from Mount Vernon, he has seen additions added to Ella Canavan Grade School, Medina Junior and Senior High Schools, and the construction of the new Sidney M. Fenn Elementary School due to open in the fall.

Student enrollment in the district has jumped from 2700 to 3400, while the professional staff has increased from 110 to 145 during his tenure.

The addition of special and advanced courses to the curriculum, as well as new equipment in all the buildings, has kept Medina City Schools at the top as one of the pace-setters in the field of education.

ACTIVITIES & ORGANIZATIONS

Medina's Musical Marching Bees Spark Spirit At Grid Events

The Musical Marching Bees begin their work for presentation of gridiron shows two weeks before school convenes. Line leaders and rookies (sophomores) start at 8:00 a.m., with the rest of the band arriving at 9:00.

Basics of marching, pre-game entrance, and the first fall show are worked out during these two weeks.

Band practice is held on the field during eighth and ninth periods during the first quarter. All this work proves that practice makes perfect which makes the Musical Bees one of the best units around.

Below Left: Our directors, Mr. Mougey and Mr. Carey, set the pace for the Marching Bees with correct dress uniform.

On All Buzzings Around The Bee Hive

Twenty-three students worked on the newspaper staff this year and produced eight issues of the Medinamite. Editions were circulated on second Wednesday of the month.

The staff made an all-out effort to publish all the facts, news, laughter, and gripes that were a part of the school year at MHS.

Staff members sold programs again this year at all the home football games.

And Deeper Interest In Athletic Skills

Membership in Girls' Athletic Association increased greatly this year because of the addition of ninth graders. The club worked to promote better sportsmanship and a deeper interest in athletic skills and events among its members.

Traditional initiation of underclassmen was held at a home football game. In November, GAA sponsored a morning playday at the school from 6:30 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. Breakfast was served in the gym.

During Christmas season, GAA and Varsity M went Caroling together. In March members enjoyed an evening bowling season.

Undefeated Season

The 1966 edition of the Battling Bees basketball teams compiled the finest record ever for Medina High School by posting a 21-1 record.

A team that was rated as only second-division conference material by local sports enthusiasts, came through the Southwestern Conference unscathed with an 18-0 mark, added three more victories in the district, and then were defeated by a team that ousted the No. 1 state-ranked team.

Where size and ability may have been lacking, determination and spirit propelled them on to victory to become one of the greatest athletic team representatives in Medina's history.

Pat Dietrich, Shirley Bedford, Jan Kowal, Laura McLaughlin, Nancy Musch, and Linda Montgomery.

Cheerleaders present good-luck charms to their wrestling brothers.

Many group practices plus individual workouts preceded the precision maneuvers the Bee cheerleaders used with their cheers to spur Medina teams to victory.

Original, humorous, and spirit-building skits added zest to local pep rallies.

MHS students could always tell that a game was scheduled because the pepsters wore their green blazers on these days.

Jan Kowal and Pat Dietrich inch toward the splits to end a routine.

And Spark School Spirit Toward Victories

JAYVEE CHEERLEADERS: Gwynne Roshon, Billie Meyers, Judy Anderson, Carol Haueison, and Kathy Gorfido.

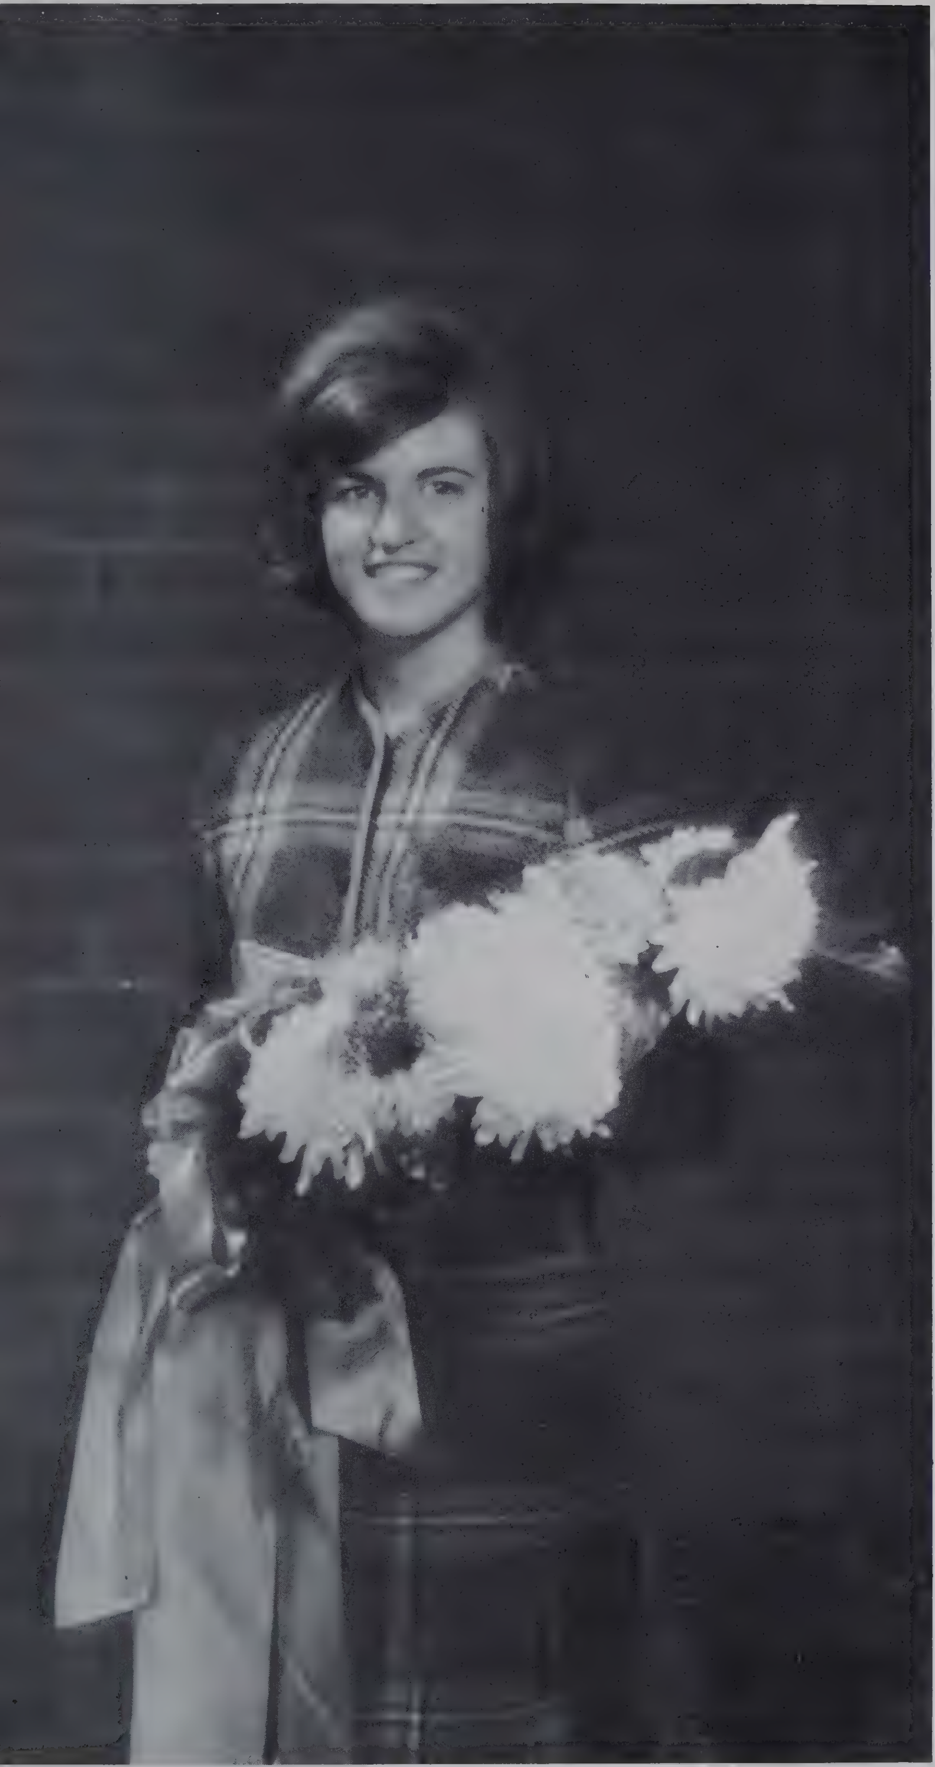
AWARDS & SPECIAL EVENTS



Senior Beauties Reign At Homecoming

Although showers dampened the parade on Thursday night, Bee boosters were on hand Friday night to witness the arrival of the Queen and her court via helicopter prior to kick-off time.

Laura received her crown from Richard Clevidence at the Homecoming Dance on Saturday night, and thus officially became Queen Laura.

Following the Queen's Dance, students then extended their best wishes to the new queen and her court. Medina students and grads then continued dancing until the midnight hour and thus brought to a close another gala Homecoming Weekend.

Homecoming Festivities Are Spotlighted

Right: Rich congratulates Laura immediately following the crowning.
Below Center: Mr. Schock bids his best wishes to the new queen immediately following the announcement at pep assembly.

Moonlight And Roses And Royalty Enhance Prom

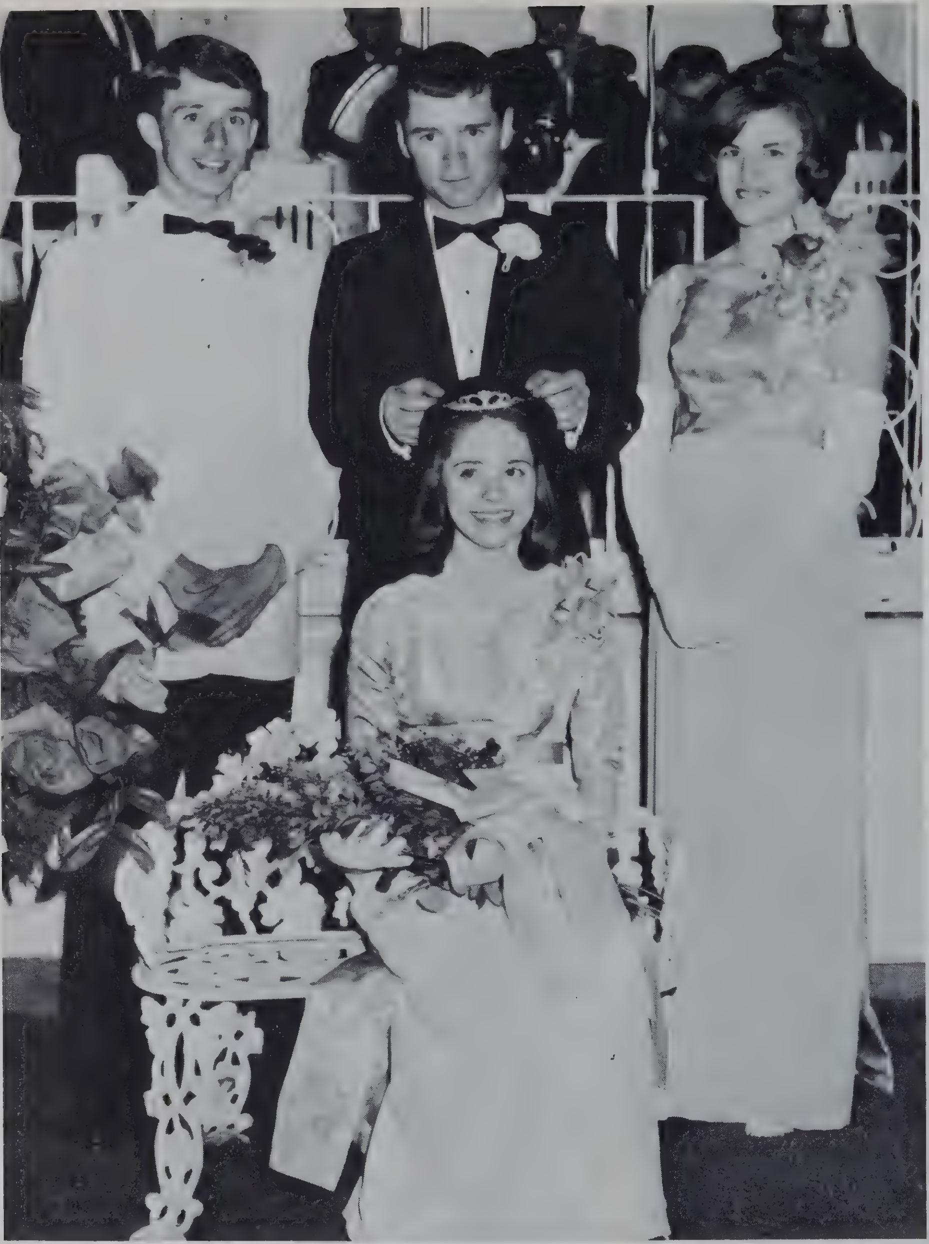
Celia Gerding, Janet Hale, and Jack Conley wait for Tony to come back so they can start on the strawberry shortcake.

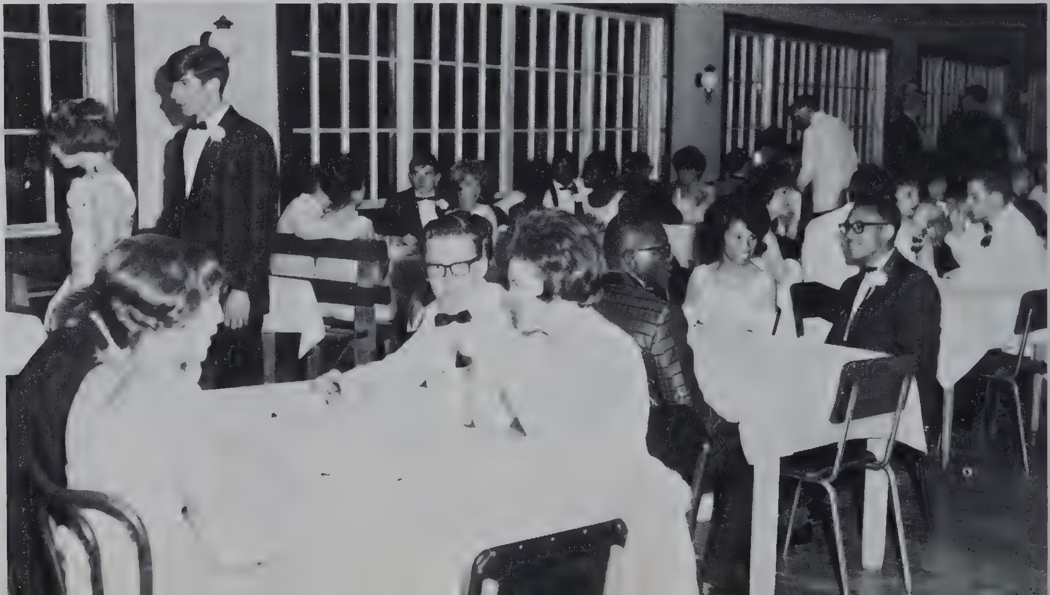
David Williams, Kathy Mesick, Dave Robinson, Faith Gish, Ron Letterly, and Sally Febus extend best wishes to the happy couple.



Prom Adds Aura Of Grandeur And Enchantment

Prom Royalty—Prom King, Bobby Ream crowns "his" Prom Queen, Bev Cronick. Gordon Henke and Laura McLaughlin also pose for the portrait.

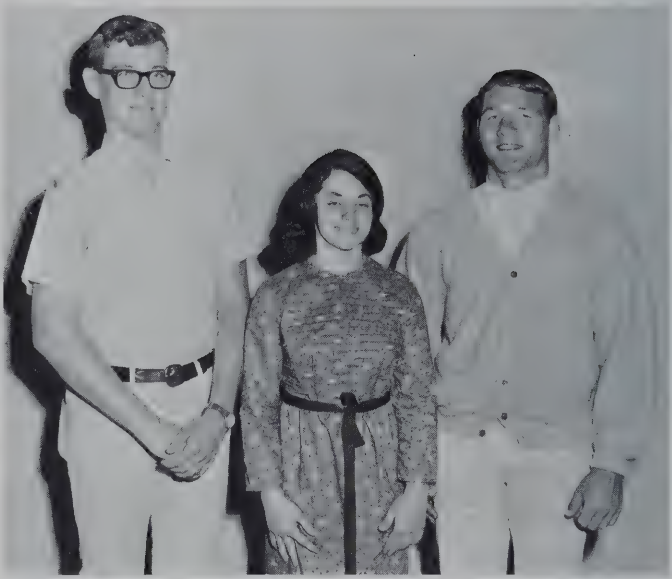
Below: "Happiness is" An evening at the Prom.



The Chippewa Lake ballroom floor was filled during the entire evening as students, guests, and school personnel danced to the melodic music of The Johnny Nuzum Orchestra. "Moonlight and Roses" for a theme setting, very danceable music, lovely ball gowns, formal attire, tasty refreshments, and the spirit of youthfulness combined to make this evening for those who attended, certainly one to remember.

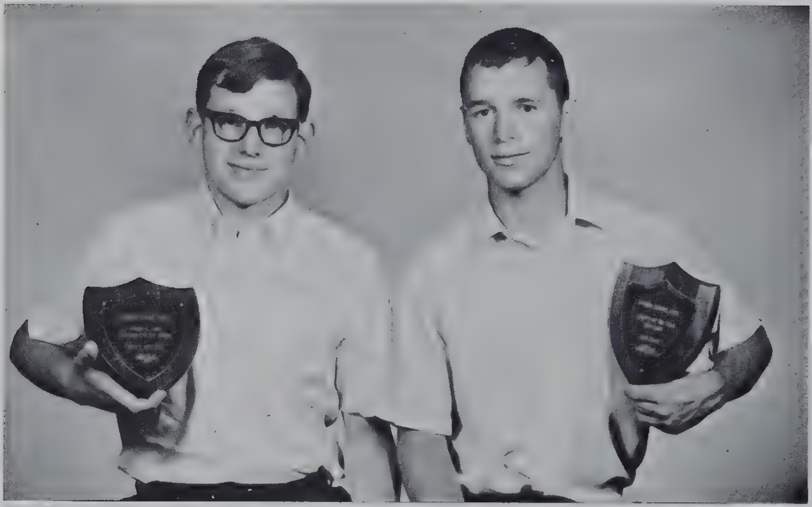
Below: Carol Van Horsten really believes that the strawberry shortcake was truly the ideal dessert for such a fine banquet.
Lower Left: Jan Kowal is sure that Eric Wilson will really get the gist of that joke in the program if he thinks it over.
Right: Mary Beth Kerch, Ralph Goodwin, Jane Effinger, Scott Chandler, Ted Meurer, and Cindy Richardson are very obliging to the cameraman while they wait their turn to congratulate the new king and queen of the prom.

Superior Scholarship And Achievement



Upper Left: Manhood and Womanhood Award winners—Bob Ream and Jane Effinger. This award, which is one of the most coveted, typifies the recipients as possessing those qualities indicative of true manhood and womanhood.

Above: Becky Shurance, Jayvee Scholarship Winner is flanked by Ted Meurer and Rich Clevidence, who were co-recipients of The Ellis Scholarship.



Center: Bruce Milliken, who received the Sidney M. Fenn Scholar-Athlete Award, and Bob Ream, who received the Outstanding Athlete Award.

Bottom: Departmental awards in Agriculture, Dramatics, Art, and Music were awarded to Dennis Hood, Mary Rose Halderson, Mary Jean Lynch, and Ron Linek, respectively.

Are Spotlighted

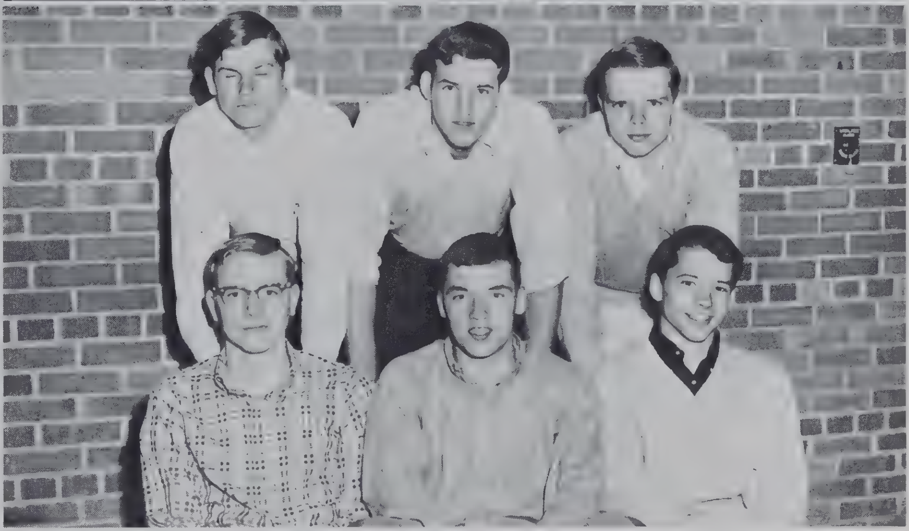
Nominees for Buckeye State are recommended by the high school faculty. The nominees then select their own delegates and alternates to the mock state and local government sessions held at Ohio University for the boys and Capital University for the girls. This event is sponsored by the American Legion and Auxiliary.



BUCKEYE BOYS STATE delegates seated are Alan Geisinger, Jack Conley, and Phil Maur. Their alternates, standing are Mike Palinchik, Bob Fodor, and Craig Killian.

A comparatively new program in self-discipline is designed to initiate the college-bound student to set up his own schedule and discipline his study habits. Seniors who are ranked in the upper quarter of the graduating class need report only to classes during their last semester bypassing any study periods.

Candids

Right: If the truth were really known, we bet most of the fellows are faking that study bit.

Below: Today's the day for The Medinamite and everyone's really fastened to it to learn the latest around MHS.

Right: Georgia Smith is sooo afraid she'll tumble from the parallel bars so Joan Martindale and Idella Mack make sure she's secure.

Susan Wyman polishing a routine for a gymnastics event, works out with the balance beam.

Don't be a bit surprised if in future years you hear of Ed Foulke and Jerry Kovacek entering the carpet manufacturing business. Here they demonstrate their talents for turning out attractive and expensive rugs during crafts class.

Mr. Mougey turns on his usual "regular guy" charm and brings out the enthusiastic voices of the choir.

The time has come to conclude this record. The year was filled with the usual number of fads, such as short skirts, beatle haircuts, and the Tijuana Brass. Common topics of student conversations were athletic victories and defeats, numerous scholastic accomplishments, new building accommodations, the history of Medina project, and the presentation of "Eli."

All will look back on this past year and remember the war in Vietnam, the soft landing on the moon of Surveyor I, and the election of Mrs. Ghandi as Prime Minister of India. The War on Poverty program, "The Great Society," draft-card burners, and "Marches" also achieved top news priority. The extension of I-71, a new building complex on Route 18, and the naming of local coaches "Mayor for a Day" made top news items locally.

The Editor wishes to extend sincere appreciation to fellow staff members, advertising patrons, photographers, the Gazette Leader Post, and you, the subscriber, for making this book possible. It is our hope that you will treasure this volume and its many memories. The year has departed, but its essence will linger through may scenes captured especially for you.
